I think the settlement is fair & some of the States involved also agree, it seems foolish for States that don't want to settle to hold out. It's been a couple of years already-enough is enough!!!

I think M/S did great things for the average Joe with home computers & really don't see how they forced anything on people that didn't want various programs.

I am 79 yrs. old, always thought I was of average intelligence until I got a computer about 6 yrs. ago (I never cursed or talked to myself before that). I just wish I was 70 yrs. younger as my grand-kids (all under 18) really catch on compared to people my age.

Thanks for letting me spout off.
